

‘The Sky is the limit, when your heart is in it.
And it is the fire in your belly that defines your progress and achievement.’

Ravi Mehrotra, CBE

Ravi realizes that the happiness of any organization you are responsible for is important too. Of course Ravi has not prospered by tolerating inefficiency, ignoring the bottom line, or being deaf to modern management theories. But the lesson I learn from him is that all these should be balanced with the need to run a happy organisation.
